

COME UNDONE

©2008 Spencer Rogers BMI / Bryan Davis ASCAP

you've been hiding out awhile away hoping time will all run out nobody said it would be easy I think a lot about it and there's only so many places to run people say so many things like our time is gonna come and that we'll remember all the moments that have come undone

life got harder today let's celebrate it
life got harder today let's celebrate life got harder today hey hey when you're crying babe, drain your eyes we're all inside these badlands even best laid plans can't make it better baby so make it easier there's far to many ways to feel afraid baby look around you take a look around just look around can you see all of the love that surrounds you?

life got harder today again it's not too late to find a bit of satisfaction and a little piece of mind in this celebration of life a celebration of life

you're inside a celebration you got no money baby celebrate it I hear you lost your job again well let's celebrate it when you're lonely come over we'll celebrate it if you lose your way well well well let's celebrate all the moments that have come undone

all the moments that have come undone
define you let's celebrate celebrate your life come on ohh that feels so good can you feel it?

this is life

le'ts remember all the moments and remember all the time
the time
let's remember all the moments that have come undone
celebrate everyone celebrate your life
