

JOE LOERA

Biography

Joe Loera is the founder of 2inspire Productions, LLC, a specialized production company that develops cutting-edge projects that educate, challenge, and inspire kids, teens and young adults to live their dream!

Joe has co-written and produced the off-Broadway shows "Us," "Break Through," and "Champions" as well as two documentaries currently in production, "Soul Escape" and "Driven."

Joe Loera is also a successful actor, dancer, teacher, and choreographer for TV, film, and stage, and has been established in the entertainment industry for fifteen years.

Joe has been fortunate to work with the best director/choreographers in the business, such as Rob Marshall, Wayne Cilento, Fatima Robinson, Adam Shankman, Rob Iscove, Otis Salid, Vincent Patterson and Michael Rooney. Joe has traveled the world on tours, performed in award shows, TV shows, commercials, and on stage with such artists as Will Smith, Enrique Iglesias, Bette Midler, Bebe Neuwirth, Kristin Chenoweth, Victor Garber, and Freddie Prinze Jr. Joe was also a series regular on "The Wayne Brady Variety Show" on ABC.

For the past seven years, Joe Loera traveled throughout the United States and abroad teaching, choreographing and mentoring over 600,000 young students for two of the top dance conventions in the nation, L.A. Dance Magic and L.A. Underground. In 2003, Joe moved to NYC to perfect his craft of being a producer.

Joe is the founder of kamp NYC-the most intensive innovative musical theatre camp in New York City for talented young singers, actors and dancers 12-17 years of age. He now resides back in Los Angeles and is creating and producing motivational teen programming for television.
