

"TEENAGE SUPERGIRL"

written by Skylar Thomson & Chris Landon © 2007

I was born with glitter in my veins
Oh well that's what Ms. Monroe would say
She was right what if diamonds are a girls best friend
oh oh

All the girls the girls they're jealous of me
All the boys they want to be with me.
Can't they see that deep down inside
We're all just the same.

I'm a teenage supergirl
They think I'm too rich
To even care
About what I do
And what I say
It doesn't matter anyway
I'm out cast in the neighborhood
They think I'm too rich to be understood
About what I do
And what I say
It doesn't matter anyway

They don't know that back in grade school
All the boys told me I wasn't cool
I broke into tears nights and years
And cried myself to sleep. oh oh

They think my life is empty and shallow
And Prada, Gucci, Juicy it's all I know
Think what you want but your so wrong and We are all the same.

Love me.....I know what you want Kiss me.....You see what I've got Like me.....You know that I'm hot

And we're all just the same

Love me, kiss me, like me, hold me, show me accept me!

Cause we're all just the same!

Repeat Chorus and Fade...